SUBJECT: Requesting for sponsorship for CBIT HACKTOBERFEST HACKATHON 2020.

Respected Sir,

CBIT Open Source Community, based in Chaitanya Bharathi Institute of Technology, is a coterie of students dedicated to introducing and promoting open source among students pursuing engineering and we have been dedicated to this goal since 2017. In the past 2 years, we have helped introduce over 1000 students to open source culture and technologies by conducting hackathons, bootcamps, and workshops.

COSC as a part of Hacktober fest has decided to conduct a virtual 24-Hour hackathon on 30 and 31 October 2020, where students from different engineering colleges and regions will be present. The main objective of the event is to bring a global community of students under one wing to collaboratively work to resolve the real world problems in a smart way by using the available technologies and thereby making life easier. The success of our event and outreach is dependent entirely on sponsors. We have been fortunate in the past few years to have the support from organisations like yours and we are hopeful that this year will be no exception.

We would be pleased if you consider becoming our sponsor. As a valuable sponsor, you will receive positive audience attention, and your organisation logo will be included on all event marketing, special mention on our website and social media handles. Your generous sponsorship will also be highlighted in an announcement to our members during the introduction at the event itself, and in an article about the event to be published in our newsletter afterwards. You and your organisation are most welcome to attend the event and encourage the participants and also, so that we can thank you personally for your support.

The estimated audience for the event would be 150 and the amount to sponsor is 18000 INR. The amount given will be spent to give cash prizes to the winners of the hackathon. Please let us know your queries and interest by replying to cbitosc@gmail.com.

We are looking forward to hearing from you soon regarding the kind cooperation.

Regards,
COSC.
